Ansbacher recruits Lorraine Wheeler to be Head of Fiduciary Client Services

Ansbacher has announced that it has appointed Lorraine Wheeler to be Head of Fiduciary Client Services in Jersey.

Lorraine is a well known figure in the Channel Islands financial services community as she is the Secretary of the Society of Trusts and Estates Practitioners (STEP) and is also Vice-President of the Institute for Financial Services (ifs) on the island. She is joining Ansbacher from Equity Trust where she was a director and previously was Client Services Director in the Jersey office of Barclays Private Bank.

In her new position, she will have overall responsibility for the client servicing team working in Ansbacher's expanding trust department. The department deals with the formation and administration of trusts and companies for private and institutional clients and the servicing of the relationships with beneficiaries and intermediaries.

Mark Bright is Managing Director of Ansbacher (Channel Islands) Ltd and he commented:

"We are delighted to welcome Lorraine to our team. She is extremely highly regarded and I'm sure will help us enhance even further the service we offer to our fiduciary clients and will be extremely successful in her new role."
